Letter from the Editors

In high school, if used for all that it is worth, students are able to establish their identities. They mature from children to adults, and with this major step, they gain priceless knowledge that will stay with them throughout their lives. Yearbooks are made to document their journeys and accomplishments in order for students to recognize what they have become, the work that it entailed, and the idea that if they made it through high school, they can be successful in life.

Our class has set numerous precedents for Case High. We had the best pep rally, hands down, and with that, we set the precedent to hold it outside. We survived NEASC and the entire hullabaloo that went along with the accreditation. With this came a new gymnasium and an improved auditorium. Our class has been the most academic class to pass through this high school in years, along with the most athletic, artistic, musically talented, involved, spirited, and generally the best. Surely, we will be missed. This yearbook serves to show a glimpse of the involvement our class has had throughout our senior year.

Finally, the 2012 Case High Yearbook is complete, and the yearbook staff hopes that it has achieved its ideal purpose. We hope that flipping through this yearbook will bring back fond memories of the ins and outs of Case High School, from games and performances to late nights and late starts. On behalf of the 2012 Yearbook Staff, we wish the Class of 2012 the best in their future lives. Even if the world is not ending, without this class, Case High School certainly is.

Your Editors,
Christine Bjorge and Lauren Coulombe

Dedication

On behalf of the Class of 2012, this yearbook is dedicated to Sarah Rodrigues.

Sarah was an extremely lovable person; she was very caring, funny and outgoing. She was never afraid to speak her mind loudly. Sarah was really good with the kids in Childcare at the high school. Even when she was in the hospital, she helped out in the hospital play room and continued to get along with the children there. Being part of Childcare brought her to become a member of the Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA). Sarah loved being involved, even if her health did not allow her to. She enjoyed being involved in the community and volunteered at her church and at the homework club at Brown Elementary School.

Everyone loved Sarah. She was always positive and upbeat, regardless of what was happening to her physically. She loved the Bruins, but what she loved the most was the color pink. In memory of Sarah, the school wore pink and gave out pink bracelets, which can still be seen on students' wrists in memory of their missed friend.

Sarah Rodrigues passed away on April 21, 2011 at the age of 17. Being part of the Class of 2012, she would have graduated this year. She will always be loved and missed; the Class of 2012 will never forget about their peer, their classmate, their friend.

In Appreciation

The Class of 2012 would like to show its special appreciation to the person who currently has the most history with Joseph Case high School—Mr. Bruce Cookson.

Cumulatively, Mr. Cookson has probably done more for Case High than anyone else has in the school. Not only was he a Case graduate and Case Cardinal himself, but he has been involved with a wide range within the Joseph Case High School community during his time working here. Currently, we know him as the athletic director—a position that he has held since 1995—but his contribution to Case athletics has reached even farther than that. For instance, when it comes to Case football, what has he not done? He coached it for a long time, assisted Mr. Gibeau in both Super Bowl teams, and even played it when he was a student at Case. He also coached both girls' and boys' basketball for some time, and more recently began coaching the golf team. For those who did not bear witness to his contributions in afterschool sports, many students have had him as a wonderful gym teacher who made gym class something to look forward to and enjoy.

One cannot question that Mr. Cookson's legacy has covered the entire scope of Case athletics, with which he has done an outstanding job. However, his influence on the community has reached even farther, as he was also a health teacher. Furthermore, one cannot be surprised if his contributions comprise even more than what has already been described, which is probable. Nobody has been at Case as long as he has, and his great influence on the school is inherently understood. As the Class of 2012 departs from its final year at Case, it will be proud to walk out those doors with Mr. Bruce Cookson.

Letters from the Administration

I want to express to all the 2012 Case graduates my most sincere congratulations for your graduation and a most earnest commendation for an educational job well done. This graduating class of 2012 has given real worth and dignity to the Joseph Case High School diploma by taking the individual responsibility of earning it.

All the staff at Joseph Case High School has worked diligently to prepare each of you for your chosen future. You all have the ability to meet the challenges of your next journey. Go forward with commitment and resolve, and continue to make the end as exciting as the beginning. Our society needs your youth, creativity, dedication and productivity.

As you leave Joseph Case High School to pursue your future goals, remember your class of 2012 as exceptionally able and very talented. Go out and “make a difference”, but never forget those who have directly supported and believed in you.

Exceed our highest expectations make us proud!

Christine Stanton,
Superintendent of Swansea Public Schools

To the graduates of the Class of 2012:

The class of 2012 is one of my favorite groups of students that have come through the doors of Joseph Case High School. Your sense of school spirit, community and enthusiasm has been infectious to all members of our community that you have co-existed with during the past four years. We have certainly seen change since you were freshmen: new gym, new auditorium seats, better lighting, cell phones in the cafeteria, covered drinks in classrooms, and a capstone project that had you guide the direction of the final months of your high school education.

Although I wish each of you a lifetime of good health and happiness, I hope your future includes many doors.

Since your formal time at Joseph Case High School is coming to a close, what is your next adventure? College? Living away from home at a university? Balancing work and school? Military? Trade schools or technology training?

Whatever you have selected as your next pathway, there will be doors ahead that will present you with challenges, opportunities, chances to flourish as well as temptations to hold you back. Choices will exist. Is this door to a new, exciting place? Is it a portal that is a transition to something else? As well, perhaps it's a revolving door that can bring you back to where you started. Does this door bring you to a place you want to be?

So many questions and option! So, too, is your life after high school.

My sincere congratulations on all of your accomplishments during the past four years and best of luck in maneuvering through the many doors ahead. Choose wisely and be open to positive possibilities that you may never have dreamed of in high school.

Brian McCann
Principal

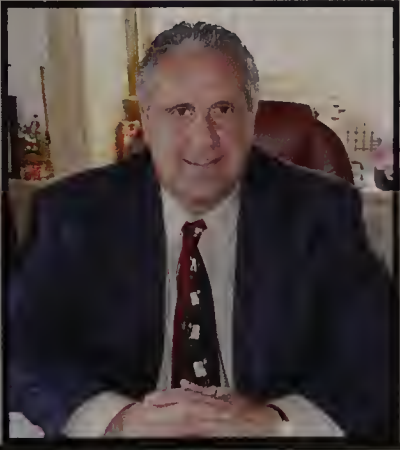

I congratulate each and every one of you on your graduation from Joseph Case High School. It is exciting and rewarding to watch you walk across the stage to receive your diploma and bring closure to such an important and enjoyable chapter in your lives. The next chapter will be equally as challenging and hopefully as enjoyable as your twelve years in the Swansea Public Schools.

You should be proud of what you have accomplished and excited to pursue the challenges that lie ahead. I urge you to move forward in pursuit of your goals and dreams with the confidence that the knowledge, experience and character that you have gained at Joseph Case High School will allow you to be successful in the next chapter of your life and beyond.

I ask that you make the difficult choices in your life that will continue to make your parents, your community and yourself proud. Congratulations on this outstanding achievement. I wish you the best of luck in the pursuit of your future endeavors.

Robert G. Monteiro
Assistant Superintendent of Swansea Public Schools

To the Class of 2012,

Your four years of high school certainly have been an exciting time at Joseph Case High School. From a volleyball state championship to a victory on Thanksgiving Day to spirited powder puff games to the NEASC accreditation to a marching band national championship, the list goes on. I hope when you look back at your time here, you remember all the great accomplishments that your class achieved because of your dedication and hard work. More importantly, use this experience as a formula to create success for yourselves in the future.

There is so much waiting for you outside the walls of Joseph Case High School. As you move on, please consider giving back to Case High just as so many graduates have given to you.

I wish you the best of luck in all your future endeavors,

Sean Scanlon
